A FINISH FIGHT WITH ANARCHISTS PLANNED

SERIOUS STRIKE RIOTS AT TOLEDO

Mayor Calls on Governor Cox to Send Troops to Maintain Order.

TWO MEN ARE KILLED

Discharged Soldiers Guarding Plant of Automobile Company, Whose Employees Are Out, Fire on Mob Near Premises.

Columbus, Ohio, June 4.—Mayor Cornell Schreiber of Toledo, wired Governor Cox, saying, "Send troops immediately to Toledo." The mayor said all available deputy sheriffs had been sworn in, but that he was "unable to cope with the situation."

Toledo, June 4.—In a riot growing out of the labor disturbances involving 13,000 employees of the Willys-Overland Automobile company, two men were shot to death and two others dangerously wounded.

The victims, presumably idle employees of the company, were killed by discharged soldiers who are guarding the plant. The killing was the culmination of three riots which resulted in injury to 13 persons.

Violence started when idle workers stormed cars carrying employees to the plant, smashed car windows with stones and bricks and pulled workers into the streets, where they were beaten. The situation flamed into a pitched battle tonight, when 5,000 idle workers, including many women, stormed the entrance of the plant as the employees were leaving, beat them with clubs and felled them with stones and bricks.

Mayor Cornell Schreiber, under whose direction the former soldiers, still wearing their uniforms, are guarding the plant, issued a statement in which he declared that no more violence would be tolerated and that everyone who starts trouble will be dealt with forcibly.

The 500 former soldiers were armed with rifles supplied at the direction of the mayor.

Senator Lodge Says He Saw Copy in New York.

Washington, June 4.—Senator
Lodge's statement, made in the senate, that he had seen a copy of the peace treaty in the hands of business interests in New York city caused a sharp debate upon the course of President Wilson and the State department regarding publication of the treaty text.

"The treaty is in New York," said
Senator Lodge, "I saw a copy of it.
I was offered a copy, but I refused to accept it, saying it could not come into my hands without being published. I heard of four copies in New York.
How many more there may be throughout the country I do not know. As far as I can make out the only place it is not allowed to come is the senate of the United States."

Cummins Has Plan to Solve Operation of Roads.

Iowa Senator Would Preserve Competition Under Government Direction.

Washington, June 4.—In a speech
here before the National Woman suffrage association, Senator A. B. Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, which has the railroad legislative program in hand, proposed consolidation of the railroads of the country into 18 or 20 systems that would preserve competition under government direction.

Before announcing his proposals Senator Cummins said he hoped the president would not turn the railroad back to their owners until congress could legislate effectively for their proper regulation. Robert W. Wooley, a member of the interstate commerce commission, also spoke, denouncing what he termed "canned clamor" for return of the railroads.

"I hope," said Senator Cummins,
"that President Wilson will retain possession and continue in the operation of our systems of transportation until congress has had a fair and reasonable opportunity to enact a permanent policy for their regulation and control."

WILLARD BEGINS TRAINING

four weeks of intensive training for his championship contest with Jack Dempsey, July 4, and the 400 persons apparent excellent condition.

There was little, if any, extra weight on his huge frame, his wind was good, and his skin glowed with health. He settled down to his training grind good-naturedly which indicated, according to experts, that he had been consistently training for several weeks.

ENVOYS WANT FOE ON RECORD

May Be Asked If They Intend to Sign Treaty Before Any Changes Are Made.

REFUSAL OTHERWISE

American Economic Experts Advocate
Germany Be Given Mandatory
Over Former Colonies to Enable Her to Pay.

Paris, June 4.—It is learned authoritatively that before the Allies reply to the counter proposals the Germans may be asked indirectly to go on record as to whether they intend to sign the treaty.

If the Germans express a willingness to accept the basic principles established in the present document, modifications will be made, it was said,
but not otherwise.

Colonies to Foe.

Paris, June 4.—American economy
experts in conference with President Wilson advocated that Germany be given mandates over her former East African colonies to assist her to meet her financial obligations.

The matter was opened in consequence of Premier Lloyd George's proposal that upper Silesia be returned to Germany for economic reasons.

The American experts, however, suggested that Poland retain upper Silesia and the Germans be given supervision over certain of her recent East African possessions.

Lloyd George is expected to make a formal statement regarding the proposed modification.

Renner Consults Colleagues.

Dr. Karl Renner, chancellor and head of the Austrian peace mission, is expected to leave Paris for Switzerland at once and it is probable he will proceed as far as the Austrian frontier, to meet members of his cabinet who will discuss with him the answer
Austria will make to the Allied terms.
The Austrian reply is due June 17, but before that time it is probable there will be a number of notes sent to the peace conference by Dr. Renner relative to different phases of the treaty.

With Allied experts working on the reply that will be made to the German counterproposals, the peace conference in Paris is for the time being marking time.

There has been no official intimation of the date when the Allies will present their rejoinder to the German counterproposals.

Schaffer was sentenced to the state penitentiary at Stillwater for a period contended explained what became of the money involved in his case. A stay of sentence until June 9 was granted.

Schaffer, whose financial transactions were followed by the closing of 14 state banks and the wrecking of business concerns, was accused of stealing $3,150 from the Hamel State substituting worthless notes, many of them signed by minors. He was in-truck driver of Tucson, Ariz., was killed several days ago. Avila's body was stripped and mutilated.

ONE-HALF OF ONE PER CENT

Probable Alcohol Limit Which Congress May Determine.

Washington, June 4.—Congress will not attempt to define intoxicating beverages in legislation to enforce national prohibition. Any beverage containing one-half of one per cent alcohol will be considered as coming within the law and on this basis all enforcements legislation will be drawn up, Chairman Volstead of the house judiciary committee said.

Style in Every Line

The conservative woman, while realizing the importance of style, does not interest herself in fads. Printzess coats and suits are built on lines that reflect the latest Parisian styles and yet they are not faddish in any way.

The woman who wears a garment bearing a Printzess label will not only have the happy assurance that she is stylishly dressed but will also appreciate the durability of the lovely all-wool quality materials combined with the finest tailoring.

The great care taken in every detail of the production of a Printzess garment puts into it many months of excellent service and means that it will hold its stylish lines through several seasons. They are moderately priced too—the best kind of investment.

PREPARE FOR JUNE

Shops Are Showing Conceits in Bridal Outfits.

Billowy Folds of White Tulle Most Popular Veil—Bridesmaids' and Matrons' Hats.

June, the month of brides, will soon be here, and shops are already preparing fanciful conceits in bridal veils and quaint bridesmaids' hats.

The billowy folds of white tulle still make the most popular veils, draped from beehives that are sometimes studded in appliques of small pearls and made in tulle shape, or for the simpler styles there is merely the garland of orange blossoms about the hair, from which the veil is draped.

Elaborate veils are made of fine net laces that are circular in effect, draping well below the waistline at the front, raised slightly on the sides to allow the arms free movement, and falling low on the sash train of the skirt at the back. This, of course, is just a novelty style, for few wear
the face veil.

Also of lace are little, snug caps that fit the head almost like a peasant's cap, and some of these even take on the wings of the Dutch head covering. From both of these the veils are draped full at the back.
Needlepoint laces are most exquisite for this sort of treatment, coming as they do in such a variety of patterns and different treatments, from the net effects to solid pattern, narrow laces.

Another effect that is quite new shows a little visor of tulle on the finest wire shading the eyes, and just a simple little bandeau of the tulle holding in the hair that fluffs out from the top.

Bridesmaids' hats seem to be mostly of the pastel hair braid in extremely large shapes that droop low about the head and are quite wide on the sides. The georgette and organdies in the pastel colors are again used,
and there are smart pastel gros de Londres shapes trimmed in sprays of apple blossoms that almost completely cover the crown.

Matrons' hats are in the darker colors of hair braid, principally the royal purple, and trimmed with flowers of the same shade.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur
to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.
Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.
Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

The Banjo.

The modern banjo was introduced into England from America, to which country it was probably taken by the African slaves, who originally obtained the idea from India. The unusual name "banjo" seems to have been derived from "banga," the name of a Senegambian instrument of the guitar species.

A Great Record.

Gen. John Brown Kerr, who was born in Kentucky seventy-two years ago, was the hero of what the late General Miles declared to be the most daring exploit in the history of Indian warfare. In 1891 Kerr, at the head of a brave band of 20 men, found himself surrounded by more than 100 South Dakota Sioux Indians. Outnumbered five to one, Kerr and his men fought so valiantly and handled their guns with such effect that many of the braves were killed and the remainder surrendered.

THEDA BARA IN SALOME

At Best Tonight and Tomorrow

"Salome," with Theda Bara as the notorious ward of Herod, celebrated in song and story, will begin an engagement at the Best theatre today. General attention was first directed to this Scriptural story, as transplanted to the stage, when Richard Strauss' grand opera of that name, with Mary Garden in the title role, was banned at the Metropolitan Opera House after its first performance.

Miss Bara's proven proficiency as a portrayer of superwomen warrants the assumption that in the character of Salome she, above all others who interpreted the role in one guise or another, reveals the true psychology of this strange creature of history. A further virtue, it is pointed out, is that no undue liberties have been taken with the story for theatrical effect. In the main, the account given by the great Jewish historian, Josephus, has been faithfully followed.

J. Gordon Edwards, under whose direction the screen spectacle was produced, put six months of hardest kind of concentration on "Salome." He excelled himself in the effective reproduction of ancient architecture, which characterized his previous efforts.

Shipbuilders Strike.

Vancouver, Wash., June 4.—The steel shipbuilding yards of the G. M. Standard Shipbuilding corporation have been closed by order of the General manager following a strike of approximately 2,000 men. Others declared the men were not paid for last week's work and promised a statement in a day or two.

President and Mrs. Wilson at Paris Races

Our photographer is discreet. He wirelessly us that he does not know whether President Wilson bets on the races. He merely calls attention to the president's smile as he stands on a balcony of the clubhouse of the Longchamps race course near Paris. Taking with him Mrs. Wilson, who also smiles as though a certain horse fort, "Cleopatra," it is stated. In the Jerusalem of King Herod's day he discovered opportunities for even more sumptuous settings, and the amazing symmetry, opulent color, stately simplicity and harmonious grouping of ensemble pictures are not merely pleasing to the eye, but lend dignity and artistic background to the great human and religious tragedy that is enacted.

Naturally, the famous Dance of the Seven Veils, which cost John the Baptist his head, swings to a crescendo of dramatic tensely this vivid story of an age of uncontrolled passions. So it is that even while the spectator admires the grace and daring of the dancer, his blood fairly runs cold at the realization of the deadly game she is playing.

"Salome," as impersonated by Theda Bara, is probably the most sinister yet fascinating figure from the blood-stained pages of Biblical history that has ever been thrown on the screen. It should be seen by every lover of the cinematographic art and those who would estimate from the mile-stones of the past what progress to civilization the human race has made in the last 2000 years.

Powerful New Explosive.

A new and very powerful explosive, which may be used in mining and for other purposes, is lead azide, a salt of hydrometric acid. The acid forms a great number of salts, as mercury azide, silver azide and sodium azide. Large crystals of lead azide and mercury azide have been found to be very sensitive to mechanical shocks, the sensitivity increasing with the size of the crystals. Even the breaking of a single large crystal is said to bring about explosion.

New Process Invented to Preserve Surface of Monolith in Central Park.

HIEROGLYPHS OBLITERATED.

Rigors of Western Climate Caused Khedive's Gift to Disintegrate. Painting Ancient Obelisk With Special Preparation Stopped Decay—Ruined Porticoes Restored.

New Yorkers awoke one morning to find in their breakfast headlines the news that a zealous park employee had discovered signs of disintegration on the surface of the city's most treasured antique—Cleopatra's Needle. Photographs revealed that the monolith was peeling, large pieces of sandstone having fallen from the tall shaft, carrying with them part of the prized hieroglyphs.

London's twin sister of Cleopatra's Needle was reported as resting comfortably and enduringly on the banks of the Thames, and the rival port wondered whether a preparation would be found to stay the attacks of their harsher climate.

Such a preparation was soon forthcoming. A new paint combination as a preservative for stone was invented.

THE OBELISK.

The Obelisk was presented to the City of New York by the Khedive of Egypt. Lieutenant Commander George U. N. after a three years' effort, obtained possession of it and moved it to its present position, at an expense of nearly $200,000. It was finally swung into position at noon, January 22, 1881.

The height of this monument from base to tip is 40 feet, 2 inches. The measurement of the base, square through its sides, is 7 feet, 8 1/2 inches. The entire weight of the monolith is 212 1/2 tons. Since it was quarried near the torrid zone, it has traversed the entire length of Egypt, most of that of the Mediterranean Sea and the width of the Atlantic Ocean—a distance of 4,400 miles, proving itself a first rate traveler for one whose age has exceeded thirty-five centuries. In the course of its existence it has seen Pharaoh and his host going to their destination in the Red Sea, Shishak marching to the conquest of Jerusalem, Cambyse despoiling the land of Herodotus, Ptolemy and other Greek students engaged in pursuit of Egyptian lore, Alexander the Great on his victorious expedition through the land of Goshen, and a half centuries of Roman sovereignty and Christian struggle at Alexandria, all the long line of Moslem rulers, since Caliph Omar, and now, leaving altogether its native land, it stands looking upon the million dwellers in this metropolis, whose site was unknown to the Eastern world at a time when the Obelisk had been in existence for two thousand years.

by Dr. William Kuckro, chemist of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Many years previous coating with paraffin had been tried, but the application had not entirely accomplished its purpose. The new painting process, however, proved a success. Disintegration was halted and the damaged parts restored. New York breathed easily again.

TROOPS LAND AT NEWPORT NEWS

First Battalion of 353d Infantry Arrives on Board Trans- port Canonicus.

SOLDIERS LOOK WELL

That Northwest Boys Were Glad to Get Home Was Apparent From Broad Grins and Jokes as They Marched.

Newport News, Va., June 4.—The transport Canonicus, with flags flying, docked at Newport News with the first battalion of the 353d infantry and the 313th supply train on board.

The first battalion of the 353d infantry, under command of Major R. J. Kipp of St. Paul, comprised 35 officers and 1,429 men. Other officers were: Lieut. P. B. Lockwood, intelligence officer, Minneapolis; Lieut. L. H. Hurt, adjutant, Fort Madison, Iowa; Capt. B. L. Livingston, Minneapolis; Capt. W. E. Schinell, Omaha; Lieut. Frank Appleby, Des Moines and Capt. H. A. Garber, Omaha.

The 313th supply train, under command of Maj. W. J. O'Connell of Des Moines, included 15 officers and 447 men. Among the officers are: Lieut. D. W. Moss, adjutant, Des Moines; Capt. H. Miller, Whitewater, Wisconsin; Capt. H. C. Hyde, Des Moines; Capt. Joseph Lees, Minneapolis; Capt. F. C. Duncan, Mount Pleasant, Iowa. The eighty-eighth division, from New York for France, August, 1918.

That the boys were glad to be home was apparent from the many broad grins worn and the light-hearted jests passed about as they swung up through the streets of Newport News.

As they passed the buildings of the "States Welcome Home" they broke into a cheer, when a little group of Minnesota enthusiasts, led by E. P. Morse of Minneapolis, representing the Northern division, put on a real Minnesota glad hand demonstration. One ruddy-faced doughboy remarked gleefully, "I believe we are really home at last."

GUARDING THE PRESS GALLERIES

STANDING COMMITTEE OF THE WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENTS IMPORTANT BODY.

SAFEGUARDS READING PUBLIC

Prevents the Extending of Senate and House Privileges to Men and Women Who Are Booming Private or Corporation Interests.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—A brief current Washington news item reads like this:

"The Washington correspondents yesterday elected this standing committee: Gus J. Karger, Cincinnati Times-Star, chairman; Harry C. Stevens, Minneapolis Journal; Charles S. Albert, New York World; Ben F. Allen, Cleveland Plain Dealer, and Arthur S. Henning, Chicago Tribune."

On the face of things it might appear that this election is of no particular moment to the readers of the newspapers of the United States, but nevertheless it means much to them, for it is through the standing committee that the Washington correspondents safeguard the interests of themselves and of the reading public of the United States.

There are a great many Washington correspondents who are not allowed to enter the press galleries, for the privileges of entering thereto are confined to correspondents who send telegraphic news dispatches and who can subscribe to the rules and regulations governing admission.

There are many writers here who confine their fields of usefulness to magazines, or to other publications which require no telegraphic service. The men who are connected with newspapers or with press associations who do use the wire are so numerous that the press galleries are well filled.

Only for Legitimate News.

When it is said that the standing committee of correspondents safeguards the newspaper men and the reading public, exactly what is written is meant. There are men and women who come to Washington to write stuff which is intended to help private or corporation interests. Their effort is to put in the most plausible way before such readers as they can command the supposed beauties of this legislation or that legislation intended to benefit some great business concern, or some individual scheme of exploitation. On the face of things, therefore, these correspondents cannot be admitted to the press gallery, for they are not the purveyors of legitimate news.

It is the duty of the standing committee, acting in connection with the committee on rules of the senate and with the speaker of the house of representatives, to see to it that the press galleries of congress are used for legitimate purposes and for nothing else.

There have been times when the standing committee has taken issue with the speaker of the house and with the senate committee on rules concerning the right of certain men to enter the galleries as correspondents. It has stood for the purity of the galleries and almost invariably it has done its work well.

It may not be uninteresting to the reading public to learn just how efforts are made at times to get into the press galleries under false pretenses. Some years ago a correspondent who had been in the galleries for some time was refused further membership therein. He did not make much of a fight to carry his point when it was proved that in his correspondence, camouflaged as carefully as was possible, was material intended to boom the interests of certain corporations of the United States. It is needless to say that these corporations paid for the work.

Two Important Rules.

No newspaper correspondent who is also an employee of the United States government is admitted to the galleries. Neither is any correspondent admitted if he is interested personally in any legislation pending in congress. It is easy enough to see why these two rules are enforced. The correspondent who is interested in legislation on his personal account would not be using the galleries for legitimate purposes, and a correspondent who is also an employee of Uncle Sam probably would feel inclined to use his place in the gallery in part to boom the interests of the man or men responsible for his appointment to office.

Here is a provision in rules governing admission to the press gallery:

"That they are not employed in any legislative or executive department of the government, or by any foreign government, directly or indirectly, by any stock exchange, board of trade, or other organization, or member thereof, or brokerage house, or broker, engaged in the buying and selling of any security or commodity or by any person or corporation having legislation before congress, and will not become so engaged will retain membership in the galleries."

This seems to be pretty inclusive. The provision referring to stock exchanges, etc., was put into the rules by action of the correspondents who not long ago were humiliated by knowledge that one or two members of the press galleries had so far forgotten their obligations to the profession as to use their positions for what might be called remunerative purposes.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Park Sunday

Much has been written about the cost of big photoplay productions—and because not a little of it has been pure "press agency," it is, perhaps, no longer the best of form to attempt to gauge the merit of a photoplay production by the amount of money which was expended in making it. And yet the engagement of Harry Garson's "The Unpardonable Sin" at the Park theatre, beginning

SIN is a small word BUT is a tremendous subject

Blanche Sweet stars in it—
Marshall Neilan directed it—Rupert Hughes wrote it—
Theodore Roosevelt endorsed it—

Sunday, ought not to be made without the perfectly warranted statement that this picture is one of the most pretentious and most expensively produced which has ever been exhibited in Brainerd. The production is in ten reels, and this alone means lots of money. Cutting into the exchequer of Harry Garson, the producer, to a greater extent, however, were the salaries of such people as Marshall Neilan, Blanche Sweet, Wallace Beery and others whose services were enlisted in the screening of the story. Mr. Neilan, conceded to be one of the finest directors in the business, commands a fancy salary, and Miss Sweet, the star, was secured for the production only after extra inducements had been offered her to forsake the comparatively quiet life, away from moving pictures and moving picture people, which she has been leading for the past couple of years after having established herself as an international screen favorite.

ADVANCE MAN IN TOWN

Frank Cassidy Bills Brainerd for the Barnes Wild Animal Circus Here July 3

First of the advance of circus representatives comes to town. Frank Cassidy, known as the contract agent for the Al G. Barnes Wild Animal Circus, which is to exhibit in Brainerd on Thursday, July 3, began a busy day's work long before the average business man thought of breakfasting. A lot for exhibiting was obtained. License was taken out, water for the hundreds of people and many more hundreds of animals was contracted for. Teams for the bill-posters of the first advertising car, which will reach here one day next week and for the car No. 2, coming a week later, were arranged for. Feed for the people and animals, bread, advertising space in newspapers and billboards, and the numerous other requisites for caring for this large family when with us was contracted. In all a goodly amount of money was spent with local merchants running well into four dollar marks. All this was done in one day by one man in a strange town, to be repeated every day for a month to come.

Mr. Cassidy reports the show as

One of the largest classes in the history of the Brainerd high school, 52 graduates, and 15 Normal Training graduates, had their commencement exercises at the Park theatre on Tuesday evening, June 3.

The commencement address was delivered by President J. C. Brown, of the State Normal School of St. Cloud.

The stage was beautifully decorated with baskets of lilacs and at the back of the stage flashed a big American flag. From the boxes hung flags. The class colors are khaki and blue, the motto, "We'll Carry On" and the class flower the yellow rose.

The class officers are: President, Erie Tornstrom; vice president, Alice Anderson; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Carmichael; faculty advisor, Miss Mary F. Tornstrom.

The high school orchestra played selections, the class song was rendered, and the invocation by Rev. Eloy G. Carlson followed. The girls gave club sang acceptably.

Supt. W. C. Cobb introduced the speaker of the evening, President J. C. Brown. He spoke clearly and distinctly, every word being heard in every part of the theatre.

The address was a remarkable revelation of the advance made in methods of teaching, course of studies, textbooks, school laws, etc. President Brown traced things from the dim past the good old days to which historians sometimes refer as the golden age, and on to the present.

"Today," said the speaker, "is the best day in the world's history. Today is the storehouse of the world's history. Material progress is evident on all sides."

Had education kept pace? He took up the early schools built of logs, with no blackboards, with roaring fireplaces. Tuition was paid partly in firewood, the master's desk was conveniently located near the warmest section of the room. Parents neglecting to deliver their quota of wood found their children given new seats in the coldest, bleakest section of the room.

In the second quarter of the 19th century the school board of classic Boston bravely discussed blackboards and came to the conclusion that as they had never had the boards they were not needed.

In the early days school visitation by parents was forbidden, the penalty being a heavy fine.

In humorous manner President Brown showed how ancient was some of the doggerel which the pupils of the early days wrote in their books and which has been duplicated faithfully it seemed, by every succeeding generation.

At first girls were not admitted to schools. The boys entered at 8 or 9 years. There was no primary class such as we have today, the lad entering school having been taught his alphabet and primer at home. The first subjects of the good old days were reading, writing and religion.

Spelling was not introduced until Webster's spelling book made its appearance. Arithmetic was a comparatively recent subject. Geography did not appear until about 1832. Every subject added came not as a demand from the pedagogues within, but because of the demand from outside. The old schoolmasters were conservative and retarded progress in the old days.

The speaker quoted examples from Hunt's arithmetic of 1823. Question No. 1 was one he could not answer when he scanned the book and no one in the audience felt qualified either.

"What does the number 7 remind you of?"

President Brown had to give it up and then looked in the back of the book and there was the answer, not of seven days in the week, but: "The major prophets."

"What does the figure 12 remind you of?"

Pres. Brown guessed the twelve apostles and so mentally did most of the audience, but it was wrong again.

The arithmetic's answer was: "The twelve gates of Jerusalem."

Pres. Brown drew attention to the fact that religion was taught at the time and that the study of arithmetic was permeated with examples and reference based on the scriptures.

The sixth grade for instance had an example on transportation and the writer of that age was hard pushed to get something in the bible on transportation. At length he evolved an example which was to figure the distance traversed by Jonah who had been swallowed by the whale.

Memory is always an important factor in school work. We reason from facts and facts are things established. So the ancient writers of history, arithmetic, geography put questions in rhyme, and Pres. Brown quoted several.

There followed changes in school work, instruction, etc., just as did in farming and transportation. When a parent said his child should receive the same education as his father, he spoke thoughtlessly and foolishly. Your boy or girl will not compete with the children of a past generation, but the children of the rising generation. So do not handicap them. Give them the best education possible.

The physical crippling of children was prevented by law. Just as important and not covered by law should be a prohibition of the mental crippling of children in their educational progress.

In closing, Pres. Brown urged parents to give their children the best in education to aid them in the tasks of life and make of them better citizens.

Generous applause indicated the points made by the speaker had been well received.

The high school rendered a selection.

M. B. Scherich, principal of the high school, offered words of advice to the graduates and praised the record of the school which has never graduated an idler.

Supt. W. C. Cobb said Brainerd high school's product was 100 per cent Americans. "You owe it to school and city, state and nation to be true Americans ready to stand for all that is good and work for your country and to resent any slur on America," said he. "Be loyal and true to the public school system of America which has made possible your education."

Announcement was then made of scholarship of pupils:

CASS LAKE AUTO TOUR PLANS GIVEN

To Attend the Summer Convention of the Northern Minnesota Development Association

LEAVE BRAINERD ON JUNE 20TH

Night Control at Walker, There Joined by Walker Cars for the Run on to Cass Lake

Plan for the proposed auto tour to Cass Lake for the summer convention of the Northern Minnesota Development association on June 20-21 are being formulated by L. W. Sherlund, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee on automobiles and he is anxious to have all who expect to make this run advise him at an early date.

It is planned to leave Brainerd on the afternoon of Friday, June 20th, making the run to Walker and spending the evening in that city. An invitation has been received from the Walker Automobile club urging the Brainerd people to come that way and stop over night in Walker. Early Saturday morning, the trip to Cass Lake could be made and Walker people will join the Brainerd tourists in the trip.

Writing under date of May 22nd, Gustav Kulander, president of the Walker Automobile club, says:

"It may be that some of your people would rather start in the afternoon on the 20th and in such case would make a long drive to get clear through. For that reason, thinking it would be much more pleasant to have a stop-over at Walker and start out fresh early Saturday morning and get to Cass Lake in good season. No doubt Saturday will be the big day of the convention and we will be glad to join you on Saturday morning and accompany you to Cass Lake."

The distance from Brainerd to Walker is about 80 miles and over ideal roads and the touring party would run approximately 25 miles an hour on an average, as the rules governing the trip would be very definite regarding stopping, etc. Many will recall the trip to Walker last year with much pleasure and Brainerd received some good advertising of the same.

The fact that the Northern Minnesota Development association headquarters are in Brainerd and two of the officers are located here, should result in a good showing from this city at the summer convention.

Mr. Sherlund urges all who expect to make the trip to list their cars with him now, in order that a definite plan can be outlined.

A tour manager and a mechanical car will be provided and the tour conducted along the same plan as that of last year.

List your cars now and plan for this big outing trip, is the earnest suggestion of the committee.

FAT WOOD IN "SUNNYSIDE" SOON

Film Booked for a Four Days Run at the Park Theatre Here Commencing June 22

BIGGEST RUN OF ANY FILM

Brinkman Theatre of Bemidji After Fat's Pants to Exhibit Them With Pictures

Thomas (Fat) Wood, Brainerd's movie hero, will make his first appearance in the film world in "Sunnyside," appearing with Charlie Chaplin in that story of New England home life.

Manager F. S. Workman, knowing the drawing power of Fat Wood in all lines, has booked "Sunnyside" for a four days run commencing June 22. That will be the longest run of any picture ever shown in Brainerd, exceeding the "Birth of a Nation," or any other big attraction.

Minneapolis shows "Sunnyside" on June 21. Brainerd gets the picture next day. Bemidji gets it later. The manager of the Brinkman has put in a bid for a suit of Fat, as he wishes to exhibit the same.

Houses throughout the east and northwest are vying to get an early date for showing "Sunnyside."

A big price had to be paid by Manager Workman to get a first run, but he considers it worth it.

IMPORTANT

The Clerks Union, No. 295, will hold a meeting Thursday night, June 5th, Odd Fellows hall, at 8:15 o'clock sharp. As there will be a great deal of business brought up, all members are urged to be present. A dance with special music will follow. Visitors welcome.

There was music and then followed the benediction by Rev. Eloy G. Carlson and the large audience filed out.

GUSTAVE H. WOERNER CALLED TO REWARD

Death Caused by Cancer, Was Operated on at a Local Hospital on Last Friday

BELONGED TO MANY ORDERS

Funeral to be Friday Afternoon from Residence and Evangelical Church, 4th and Forsyth

Gustave Henry Woerner of 502 Northeast Maple street, one of the best known shop foremen in the city, died late Tuesday afternoon at a local hospital from cancer. An operation had been performed to save his life, but the disease had advanced too far to be checked. He met his end with courage and fortitude and never uttered a word of complaint.

Mr. Woerner was born April 4, 1859, in Nogolast, Germany. He was married to Miss Louise Falkert. He came to this country when 21 years old and to Brainerd in 1899. He worked for years in the Northern Pacific railway shops where he was foreman of the rod and link gang. He belonged to the Machinists Union, the Foremen's Union, the Woodmen of America, United Order of Foresters of Court Magnolia and the Masons.

He leaves a wife and three children, Mrs. Leo N. Code, Miss Selma Woerner and Private Paul Woerner in the hospital corps in France. The latter was to sail for home on Saturday. There are three grandchildren. A brother preceded him to his reward.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock from the residence at 502 Northeast Maple street and at 2:30 o'clock from the Evangelical church of Northeast Brainerd, 4th avenue and Forsyth street, Rev. Ohme officiating.

The sympathy of the community is extended the bereaved family.

ROLL OF HONOR

Mr. Bennett received a telegram Thursday morning that his brother, Lee M. Bennett, former editor of the Pillager Herald, but who has been over there, had landed safely in Brooklyn, N. Y. He has been over there for one year. It is believed that he will again take over the management of the paper. He has seen much service but has escaped without a wound. He is in the second division, Co. C, 326 82nd Div. They had made arrangements to sail for home on the 7th inst. but were detained on account of sickness. He will have a chance to make the acquaintance of a nine months' old son when he gets home. Wonder if he will enlarge the paper or go to the cities and start a daily before he gets used to the sensation of being a father.—Cass County Pioneer.

Sergt. Clyde E. Parker has sent the Dispatch "Camp Dodger" newspaper views of General Pershing's review of the 88th Division at Gondrecourt. The flag of the 339th Machine Gun Battalion is shown. Crp. Keller, company clerk of Sergt. Parker's company, and his pal carried the colors.

BRAINERD TO BE A SPOTLESS TOWN

Sanitary Policeman B. E. Koecher Says Brainerd People Acquiring Reputation Cleaning Up

ALLEYS AND LOTS ARE CLEANED

Three Years Ago the City was Full of Dogs and Only Half Paid any License Fee

Brainerd is fast acquiring a reputation as a spotless town and alleys and premises of residents are being cleared of rubbish, ashes and other debris, all tending to improve the city as a whole and attracting the favorable comment of visitors such as the Minneapolis business men who were in town Monday.

B. E. Koecher, sanitary policeman, lauds the people of Brainerd as trying to obey the various statutes and rules laid down by the city council and health officers. Mr. Koecher has been on the job three years as a sanitary policeman in summer seasons. At first he found Brainerd had unhealthy, insanitary spots and he impressed it upon residents to obey the law and those who proved refractory were brought into court.

This year, as far as he has inspected, the people have cooperated heartily and have done their utmost to keep places they owned or were in their control clean.

Three years ago the city was full of dogs because half their owners paid and half did not pay dog license taxes. Now they are all paying and there are only half as many dogs as formerly.

On the other hand, said Mr. Koecher, to make a practice of poisoning dogs is a dangerous pastime for the law makes it a state prison offense for one proven guilty of poisoning.

To Whom It May Concern:

I will not be responsible for any debts contracted by my wife, Mrs. Millie Johnston, who has left my bed and board.

Exquisite Bridal Finery

From the day her engagement is announced until that moment when she advances up the aisle on the arm of her proud father, the bride's time is spent in selection of dainty, frilly apparel. And, oh, what a host of lovely clothes she needs, wants—and finds here!

A suit with a decidedly "tailored" when it is a question of outfitting a bride. And Capes, Coats and Frocks coax the brides approval with interpretations strikingly individual.

Beautiful in color, fashioning and fabric and presenting the newest concepts and silhouettes, these exclusive modes invite all to stop, look and linger—and to select before appreciative visitors deplete this extensive showing.

Colors of the Sardine.

The fresh sardine is a beautiful little fish. The scales on its back are an iridescent blue-green, the exact tint which the sea so often takes, while beneath the scales there shows up the most wonderful peacock blue. There are bars on its back and sides when it first comes out of the water like those on the mackerel, but they seem to fade and disappear the moment it is exposed to the air. The remainder of its body is pure silver in its color scheme.

Golden Eggs.

The value of the eggs and poultry produced every year in the United States in now $750,000,000, or more than that of all the gold, silver and diamonds produced in a year in the whole world. There are about three hens to a person, and each hen lays on an average 80 eggs a year. The best layers produce as many as 240 a year. Farmers' flocks consist on the average of only about 40 birds, but even at that they contribute notably to good living on the farm.

German Siege of Paris.

The siege of Paris began on September 15, 1870, and ended on January 28, 1871, when the city surrendered. German troops entering the city in March, 1871, and remaining 48 hours. The eastern part of Paris was bombarded by the Germans on January 8, 1871, and about a week later there was a general bombardment, in which many buildings were damaged and a number of persons killed. After the latter bombardment France appealed to the neutral powers, but received no response.

SEMI-LUXURY TAX HAS NO FRIENDS

HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE VOTED UNANIMOUSLY FOR ITS REPEAL.

BOTH PARTIES SEEK RELIEF

Huge Sum Must Be Raised by Various Methods, but Congress Intends to Make the Burden as Light as Possible.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—For once in a lifetime the house committee on ways and means has been unanimous on a proposition. There was no partnership, to the remotest degree of kinship, in the vote on the report calling for the repeal of the so-called semi-luxury taxes in the war revenue bill. Unanimity had it as Republican and Democratic members of the committee vociferously voted "aye."

It is the rarest kind of a thing to secure unanimity in voting in a house committee, let alone securing it in the house itself. Patriotic Americans remember with chagrin and shame that even the war resolutions received some adverse votes, cast by men who did not think the rights of their country were worth upholding. By way of diversion it may be said that some of these unpatriotic voters still hold office in congress.

It seems probable that unanimity in voting will break records during the present session of congress. Both parties seem determined to get rid of certain forms of taxation which weigh heavily on the purse of the individuals. Of course it may be necessary to divert the taxes so that they may be raised by other methods, but with the rapidly decreasing expenses of government it appears to be likely that many levies now can be eliminated and no replacements made.

Much Revenue Must Be Raised.

The United States government has a big war debt. Congress is now studying out ways and means of financing it. It is probable that shortly an attempt will be made to put in several definitive measures, one of which may be adequate when enacted into law to meet the financial situation. The leaders of the house are studying various plans, some of them of Republican and some of them of Democratic origin. In questions of finance members of a majority party in congress are not averse to consulting members of the minority, for good financial heads in the United States admittedly are so few that no chance to get a solution of a monetary problem is let slip.

It was not many years ago that in terms purposely exaggerated a member of congress, sneering at the opposition party, said that unless they took care they would make a billion dollar congress of it. That remark was taken as the height of exaggeration and of absurdity, but not many years went by before the country not only had billion dollar congresses, but billion dollar sessions, and this was in the days of peace.

Just how long it is going to take to pay off the national debt no one, of course, can determine. The best that the legislators can do is to guess at it. It has been said that perhaps it can be reduced at the rate of a billion dollars a year, but this to most of the legislators apparently seems impossible, unless the intention is to levy higher taxes than perhaps is justifiable. The United States owes about $30,000,000,000.

Within a few days it has been estimated that it may be possible to keep the actual expenses of the United States government at a figure a little below $3,000,000,000 a year. If this can be done it may be, legislators think, that the debt incurred by the war can be paid off at a billion dollar rate annually, but it is admitted that the government's expenses are likely to run higher than the estimate.

Huge Sum Owing Uncle Sam.

Of course this country has money owing to it from many other nations. Uncle Sam has gone down into his pocket to loan to countries fighting with him in humanity's cause considerable quantities of coin. The total amount is said to reach between $10,000,000,000 and $11,000,000,000.

There is not one of the governments indebted to the United States, except possibly Russia, which is not perfectly able within the allotted time to pay the money which it has borrowed. Inasmuch, however, as these countries are just at this time financially hard up, and struggling with all kinds of problems, the United States is understood, will give them time to readjust matters, and plenty of time to redeem their promises to pay.

This whole situation affects the subject of taxation. Congress today is busy figuring out means to pay the expenses of running the government in its various activities, to pay dividends on bonds, and to meet other obligations. Taxes will continue, but it seems to be the determination of congress to adjust the taxation so that it will be felt as little as possible. Admittedly this is going to be a hard job.

CONGRESSMEN ARE NOT AT ALL LAZY

SMALLEST PART OF THEIR WORK IS DONE IN THE SESSIONS OF HOUSE AND SENATE.

ALL CALLERS MUST BE SEEN

Correspondence is Heavy and Important, and Senators and Representatives Are Called on Very Often to Deliver Addresses.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—Whatever else may be said by the flippant, the caustic and the critical generally about members of congress, no man rightly can charge the individuals of that body with laziness. Of course there is an occasional lazy man in congress, as there is in every other vocation in life, but if a congressman wants to keep his seat he has to work.

Americans who think of their congressmen as men who come to Washington to sit in the senate or the house for four or five hours each day discussing carefully the affairs of state, then to go home to the family fireside to dine, thence to the theater, and thence to bed for rosy dreams, have not visualized the situation with a fractional part of correctness.

The smallest part of the work which a national legislator does is performed on the floor of the house to which he happens to belong. The solid truth is that a large part of the actual business of the house and senate is carried on in the absence of quorums. Leaders of both parties are left on guard, and if anything is going to break members instantly are summoned to their tasks of duty; but more than one-half of the time the members of the two houses are in their office rooms working either in behalf of their local constituents or in behalf of measures intended to affect the entire constituent body of the United States.

Live Member Has Lots to Do.

The day of a member of the house who hails from a live, up-to-date district begins about 8:30 a. m., and in many cases much earlier, and does not end certainly until 6 o'clock, and frequently does not see its finish until after midnight.

What does a representative or a senator have to do during all these hours? Well, he has plenty to do, much of which he would not have to do if he could turn a cold shoulder or a stern face to a lot of visitors, but a politician has to be polite, and in a way be all things to all men, and so it is that he feels it necessary to talk with every person who comes to his office even if that person's errand is to spend an hour in proving that he can turn a grain of sand into a gold dollar by a new process about to be patented, or is convinced that he has a scheme which if put into legislative form will make all men and all nations of men brothers in heart and soul in the twinkling of an eye.

The anteroom of the office of nearly every representative and senator has within it three or four waiting persons at nearly all hours of the day. They go in one by one; each is listened to patiently and generally is sent away good-natured even if he has been refused the favor which he wished to have granted, or has seen that his advice would have received pleasantly, but no remote chance of being acted upon.

Correspondence Is Heavy.

Nearly every senator and representative receives scores of letters every day from individual constituents, men, women and children. Every letter has to be answered. Now a good many of these letters are answered by the congressman's secretary without reference at all to the chief until the times comes for his signature to be affixed, but there is always a close study of each communication made to make certain that it properly can be so answered and that there is no chance of offense being given.

While the secretary and the stenographers are busy all day long with correspondence and other things it must not be taken for granted that "the man inside" is free from bothersome letters. Scores of the letters are of such a nature that while the secretary might wish to answer them he does not feel that he should do so lest he overlook something which might present itself to the watchful eye of "the boss."

Virtually every senator and representative has to make speeches in this town, and, of course, he is called on to speak elsewhere in the United States on many occasions, provided he is a man well known to the country. The capital has thousands of different kinds of organizations, and not one of them is content unless its weekly or monthly meeting is addressed by a "man of state."

The congressman's life may be an interesting one, but it is not a lazy one. If he is lazy his constituents find it out, and they know how to apply the remedy.

Once Was Enough.

The couple were marching into the parlor, and when they came to the door the bridegroom hid behind it. The bride did not notice that he was not with her until she had walked across the room. A search was started. The bridegroom escaped through the window and hid in the barn. He did not come up to the house till the next day. The minister was called and they had a quiet wedding. The bridegroom said he would never marry again.

As soon as he is discharged he will rejoin the Brooklyn team. While "over there" Ward played on the champion team of the A. E. PETROGRAD IS TAKEN

City Captured by Estonians and Finns, Says Telegram.

American Engineers Accompany Troops Up Russian Rivers—Bolsheviks Demoralized.

Copenhagen, June 4.—Estonian and Finnish forces have taken Petrograd, according to an unconfirmed telegram from Vardoe received by the National Tidende.

Archangel, June 4.—On the Archangel front the Bolshevik troops appear to be losing their morale rapidly. Desertions into the Allied lines occur daily. On the Dvina and Vaga sectors British and Russian patrols find little difficulty in advancing under protection of gunboats.

American engineer units are still active on the river sectors.

U. S. Engineers Near Front.

In the recent successful attack on Tulgas, the engineers were right behind the Russian troops who drove back the bolsheviks.

The constant artillery duels between the land batteries and the gunboats on the Dvina have resulted in several villages being virtually wiped away, the first instances of this kind in north Russia.

Reds' Big Guns Kill Civilians.

The bolsheviks have withdrawn a considerable number of their boats, but still have several big guns in action. These guns outrange the Allied weapons and, although they have had no effect on the Allied positions, have caused casualties among the civilian population.

Bolshevik airplanes showed fight for the first time when they came in contact with British and Russian planes over Seltso, on the Dvina, and Kitta, on the Vaga.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back is aching or Bladder bothers, drink lots of water and eat less meat.

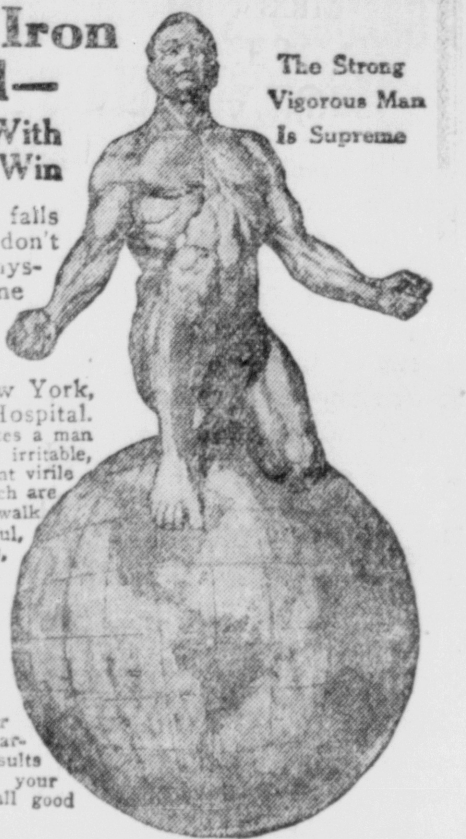

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 600 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

Can You Do It?

This sentence, President Elliot of Harvard university is said to have given to Doctor Lowell, his successor as head of the university, stipulating that the words all be spelled correctly: "It is agreeable to view the unparalleled embarrassment of a harnessed saddler or peddler sitting on a cemetery wall, gauging the symmetry of a skillfully peeled potato."
